

Contract Mobile Developer Position at Belle & Wissell, Co.

Belle & Wissell, Co. is looking for talented programmers to help create innovative interactive experiences for high profile clients. Specifically, a mobile software developer is needed for project-based, part-time engagements.

Applicants should be proficient in the technologies below, and have the passion and drive to explore new ones:

- Recent hands-on experience in iOS development utilizing latest iOS SDKs and/or cross platform mobile development platforms.
- Experience with iBeacon/BLE technologies is a big plus.
- Experience in the use of third party libraries/SDKs and external web services.
- Experience in the full lifecycle of app development including design, develop, test, and deploy/release to App stores.
- Experience and confidence with estimating scope for fixed-bid projects (with accuracy).

Developers local to Seattle are strongly preferred, although candidates elsewhere will be considered. Absolutely no overseas developers, agencies, or outsourcing companies. Please include resume and links to work samples in your response.

Email resume and work sample links to info@bwco.info

About the studio:

Belle & Wissell, Co. (<http://www.bwco.info>) crafts memorable, participatory experiences that blend inventive design and technology. With exceptional craftsmanship and a set of modern tools, the studio creates content-rich, participatory experiences for exhibit environments and other public spaces.